Murtons Were Under Heavy Strain

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Tension erupted into emotionalism at Cummins Prison Farm the night the state Board of Correction issued the order for immediate dismissal of Thomas O.
Murton, the man who came here
13 months before to clean up
Arkansas' prison system.

Murton's family and the closely-knit group of employees who had worked for the outspoken penologist in other states had been under intense strain for three days and nights after Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller released copies of a letter that did everything but flatly order Murton's dismissal.

The fact that the board prolonged the agony for 24 hours as far as public knowledge of the firing was concerned only added to the strain.

Thus, when the board, after meeting 5 1/2 hours Wednesday night, returned to the prison Thursday night to administer the coup de grace, Murton's family and friends gathered to watch what Mrs. Murton referred to as "my husband's lynching."

Murton, who learned of the hastily-called meeting in Little Rock when he heard about it on a radio news broadcast, spent only 10 or 15 minutes with the board and then, with lips drawn tightly, returned to his office and began packing his personal effects.

At one point, Victor Urban,
the man named as his temporary replacement and a friend Murton brought to Arkansas last April, knocked on Murton's office door and called for a few employees to meet with the board.

Mrs. Murton rushed out and sarcastically remarked, "Honey, so good to see you and I want to tell you how much we love you."

She accompanied newsmen into the board's meeting room when the board became ready to make public the decision.

Asked if Dr. William Lytle, a board member from Clarksville, had married the Murtons, she replied, "Yes, he married Tom and me."

"And there's John Haley (the chairman)," she said. "We spent a weekend at his cabin.
He's our friend."

Lytle, a Presbyterian minister, had performed the marriage ceremony for the Murtons in New Mexico about 14 years ago.

When the brief news conference had ended, four members of the Frank Crawford family wrote out letters of resignation.
Crawford walked out of the room and upon spotting Urban in the lobby, called him an
"ole Judas."

Mrs. Murton told board member Marshall Rush of near Pine Bluff that "the only honest Ar-kansians I have met in this state are the inmates. I thank God for the experience of having known them."

Murton, who seldom shows his emotions, broke down and cried openly when he was greeted with a hug by Ronnie Crabtree, a trusty guard at the prison infirm.

"They can't do that to us," Crabtree said. "You built us up.
They can't let it go back."
Murton said, "It'll go back just like that," and he snapped his finger.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland activated the new military command for South Vietnam's northernmost provinces where the Communist forces along the frontier had grown to five divisions, or about 50,000 troops.

"Their forces are formidable," Westmoreland said. "We intend to confront them."
The Communist leadership considers Thua Thien and Quang Tri provinces part of North Vietnam. I anticipate more very heavy fighting.

Khe Sanh, the isolated Marine base in Khe Sanh's northwest corner, is in Quang Tri, and Hue, where the Communists held out for nearly a month of fierce fighting during the February lunar new year offensive, is in Thua Thien.

Until the February offensive, Khe Sanh had been considered the likeliest target for a big Red drive, but recently one of the top U.S. officers in Vietnam said he now thought Hue would be the next objective.

Wants Press to Act Like Gentlemen

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bill
Conley, press secretary to Gov.
Winthrop Rockefeller, told newsmen Saturday he was going to ask the governor "if he will allow me to stop a news conference any time the press gets shrill and emotional..."

"I think the press can be gentlemen and still accomplish the same ends you were trying to accomplish yesterday (Friday)," he said.

Conley said he intended to take it up with the governor in private, but newsmen didn't wait. They went straight to Rockefeller, who vetoed the idea.

The governor said news conferences sometimes were "like being confronted by a group of prosecutors," but that, "I think you have been more than cooperative."

Conley's suggestion was precipitated by a two-hour news conference Friday in which newsmen questioned Rockefeller and state Correction Board Chairman John Haley about secret meetings of Haley's board and the dismissal of Prison Superintendent Thomas Murton.

Goes to Trial in Slaying of Negro

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) —
A white man goes on trial in a Mississippi court today, accused of murdering a prosperous Negro landowner who died defending his family from nightriders.

Strict security precautions were ordered for the trial of Cecil Victor Sessum, 31, who, the state contends, took part in a firebomb assault which killed Vernon Dahmer.

All spectators entering the courtroom of Circuit Judge Stanton Hall were to be searched. Armed deputies were to be posted about the courthouse.

Billy Roy Pitts, 24, of Laurel, a fellow defendant who pleaded guilty Friday to charges of arson and murder, was expected to testify for the state.

The defense subpoenaed Negro leader Charles Evers, a candidate for Congress in Tuesday's special election to fill the unexpected term of John Bell Williams, who was elected governor.

Evers, field secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was reported greatly irked at being subpoenaed as a defense witness as the voting neared.

The nightriders drove to Dahmer's home and store in the Kelly settlement north of here on the morning of Jan. 10, 1966.
Some hurled firebombs. Some trained their guns on the exits.

Dahmer, 58, struggled through flames and smoke to the front porch. Although mortally burned he shot back while his wife, daughter, two sons and 84-year-old aunt escaped through windows. Dahmer died the following day.

(from page one) that U.S. responses to the Gulf of Tonkin incident were due to provocations by Communist warboats.

"The provocations to say the least were extremely slight," Fulbright said, adding that "they could well determine that we were determined to attack them."

At another point Fulbright told Rusk there are "striking discrepancies" between events of the war and the administration's description of them.

He said what he called discrepancies have caused a crisis in this country over the war.

Rusk prepared for today's appearance before the committee expecting that he would spend hours responding to questions about the critical state of the war in Vietnam.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES LARRY CARMAN

The First Assembly of God Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Sandra Lynn Harmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harmon, and James Larry Carman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dorris Carman of Blevins, at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, February 10.

The Rev. B. J. Willhite performed the double-ring ceremony. Vows were exchanged beneath a wrought-iron arch entwined with greenery and topped with white satin bows and doves. It was flanked by baskets of white gladioli, and a satin-covered prie dieu completed the wedding scene.

Candles in seven-branched candelabra were lighted by Miss Kathie Arnett of Emmet, Donald Lively, and LeVon Cook. Mrs. Arthur Strech, organist, played a program of wedding music and accompanied Miss Brenda Evans, who sang "I Love Thee" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride wore white pearls, a floor-length gown, a floor-length wedding gown, fashioned with elbow-length sleeves and a bodice of champagne tulle face embellished with seed pearls. A panel of the lace was on the center front of the skirt and the back of the skirt swept into a chapel train. Her veil of illusion fell from a coronet of pearls, and the attire included something old, new, borrowed, and blue to carry out the tradition. The bride's only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried an open fan on which white carnations and a white orchid were pinned.

Miss Verna Gall Harmon was her sister's honor attendant. She wore a ruby red velvet dress designed with long sleeves, a scoop neckline, and a floor-length skirt. In her hair was a matching red veil.

Coming, Going

Guests of the Royce Welsenbergers over the weekend were their son, Al of SMU School of Law, Miss Giles McGovern, a senior at TCU and her father, Judge Hugh McGovern of El Paso, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Royce Stewart Welsenberger of Texarkana joined the group Friday night.

BROWN-SISSON VOWS EXCHANGED

On Sunday afternoon, March 10 in the Spring Hill Methodist Church Miss Sarah Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie J. Brown, and Gerald Wayne Sisson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sisson, pledged their marriage vows.

Harley Sisson, pastor of the Saratoga Church of Christ and brother of the bridegroom, performed the double-ring ceremony and baskets of white stocks were used as floral decoration. A program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Brooks Collins, pianist.

Attired in a street-length dress of bonded crepe with a long-sleeved white lace jacket, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress had a round neckline, and with it she wore a heart-shaped necklace. A bow held her shoulder-length veil in place, and the bride carried a colonial bouquet of white pompon mums.

Miss Mary Ann Massanelli was the bride's only attendant. She wore a yellow dress and carried a gold ribbon bouquet with yellow pom mums.

Freddie Shopes of Emmet served the groom as best man.

Harold Sisson, brother of the groom, and Earl Downs ushered.

For the wedding Mrs. Brown, the bride's mother, wore a green suit with white accessories, and Mrs. Sisson, the groom's mother, wore a beige suit with matching accessories. Each had a green and white corsage of pom mums.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church parlor. A white linen cloth covered the serving table where a bridal centerpiece was used. Mrs. Earl Downs served the tiered wedding cake, and Mrs. Ronnie Kidd poured the punch. Misses Sharon and Julia Brown, sisters of the bride, had charge of the bride's book.

When the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride wore an ensemble of turquoise, gray, and white, and she had a white corsage taken from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Sisson will make their home near San Francisco, Calif. He is stationed with the Air Force at Hamilton AFB, Calif.

THIS MAN THRIVES ON JEALOUSY

Dear Helen: Funny how you can look back on your courtship and see so clearly what you were blind to then. When we were engaged, my every move was watched. When my fiancé fought over me, I took it as a compliment—he loved me enough to be jealous. Foolishly, I figured if I gave him no reason for doubt, he'd trust his wife.

For ten years, I've paid for that blindness. First my husband merely accused me, but soon he was beating me, trying to make me confess to affairs I never had. Finally, a year ago I began to think: he wants me to be untrue, why not? Mostly for revenge, but partly because I needed kindness, I had a brief affair with my boss.

This made me even more miserable. So I quit work and tried hard to make a go of my marriage. It didn't work. One night my husband raved on and on about his suspicions, naming everyone but the right one. Then he calmed down and explained it was not knowing that turned him wild. "If you'd only admit your guilt," he said, "I'd forgive you and everything would be perfect." For the first time, I had a confession to make, and, like a fool, I believed him and made it.

Well, he didn't forgive and forget. I guess he never really believed I could be untrue, even as he was beating me.

Every day now, he threatens to throw me out. He calls me terrible names in front of the children, tells them they aren't his and that he never wants to see any of us again. I stay because I know he's sick in the mind and needs help, but, if I stay much longer, I'll have a breakdown. He won't see a doctor or counselor. My doctor urges me to leave. Should I? — MISERABLE

Dear Miserable: You're helping no one where you are—and you're hurting those who need you most: your children. If you have a breakdown, what will happen to them? Do as the doctor urges. — H

Dear Helen: My husband is trying, with scraggly non-success, to grow one of those big, droopy, mustaches. I'd rather kiss an alligator! What should I do? — UGLY

Dear Ugly: Kiss your alligator, and wish him well. He'll soon tire of the fat if you don't "get hairy" about it.

Better yet, buy him a "facial" false. Those slick-on mustaches, goatees, sideburns, etc., are no longer just for Halloween—they're selling almost as well as wigs, I'm told.

... And this, too, will pass! — H

Dear Helen: I am the mother of three small children. My husband has an offer for a much better paying job in a distant state. The trouble is: he has a drinking problem. He gets despondent here because we can't make ends meet on what he makes. My family buys most of the children's clothes and I help out with a part-time job, babysitting. But what if my husband's drinking got worse and the kids and I were stranded in an unknown place? He is a good worker and a good man, but I'm — SCARED

Dear Scared: Better to risk than rot. If you stay put, you can be quite sure debt and drink will turn your life sour. A good job in new surroundings could mean a new start for all of you. Take a chance! — H

HD CLUB MEETS

"Heart, Circulatory Vessels, Heart Attacks, High Blood Pressure, and Other Diseases of the Heart" was the Lesson taught by Mrs. James Ellis at the meeting of the Victory Extension Homemakers Club on March 6 in the home of Mrs. Clayborne Rowe.

For the Eye Opener Mrs. Avery McKinney showed how to make a "Bed Caddy" of quilted taffeta and lace. After the president, Mrs. Jerry Brown, had opened the meeting, the club voted to continue its project of sending flowers, cards, and food to members and their families when illness occurs.

Mrs. Pearl Cash led the group in singing "Red River Valley" and "Coming Round the Mountain." The vice-president, Mrs. Ellis, read a poem, "How and Why." A guest, Mrs. Willie Mayton, read Psalm 1:1-6 for the devotion and followed it with prayer.

Two members, Mrs. Clayborne Rowe and Mrs. Nina McCorkle, received anniversary gifts from their Secret Pals, and Mrs. McKinney won the Surprise Package. In view of the approaching St. Patrick's Day, Mrs. McKinney directed a game called "Shillalah Hop." Cake, cookies, and cold drinks were served to 13.

Mrs. Pearl Cash will be hostess for the club meeting Wednesday, April 3.

76ers Take Title for Third Year

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Eastern Division title of the National Basketball Association remains in Philadelphia for the third consecutive year—but 76er Coach Alex Hannum isn't saying whether he'll be back for another try.

The 76ers, defending NBA champions, clinched the crown Sunday afternoon with a 119-108 victory over the New York Knicks and Cincinnati knocked off second-place Boston 137-111, eliminating the Celtics. Philadelphia has a 7½ game edge, with a 57-18 record. Boston is 50-26 in the 82-game schedule.

In other games, Sunday, Detroit beat St. Louis 133-121, Baltimore bombed Los Angeles 118-89 and San Francisco turned back Seattle 118-112.

In Saturday's action, St. Louis tripped Chicago 115-109, Seattle got by San Diego 115-111 and Los Angeles nipped San Francisco 137-132 in overtime.

In American Basketball Association contests Sunday, Indiana topped New Orleans 113-105, Houston walloped Oakland 122-94, Pittsburgh whipped New Jersey 122-105 and Dallas edged Anaheim 112-110.

The 76ers apparently didn't expect to clinch Sunday, as the dressing room was bare of champagne, with only soda pop in sight as a happy Hannum went around shaking hands with his players and murmuring "great, just great. We did it again."

Hannum answered reports that he would leave the 76ers after the playoffs to go to another club by saying, "I'm complimented that my name has been mentioned for another job. I have not resigned here. My contract is up at the end of the season and I will negotiate with the 76ers or possibly somebody else."

"Right now I'm extremely happy and am thinking only of the 76ers and the playoffs. That's all that's on my mind right now. Let's just wait and see what happens."

What happened Sunday was a big second-period for Philadelphia, triggered by Hal Green and Bill Cunningham, sending the 76ers from a 27-25 lead after one quarter to a 50-33 margin midway in the second.

Greer chipped in 13 of his 28 points and Cunningham 10 of his 18 in the spurt.

The Knicks, trailing by 29 points, 98-69, entering the final period gave a sellout crowd of 19,500 an exciting finish as they got to within 113-107 with 1½ minutes left before Walt Chamberlain put the clamps to the bid.

Chamberlain poured in Phil-ly's last six points to tie the verdict. Big Walt had 28 points, on 11 of 15 from the field and six of 12 foul shots. He also added 27 rebounds and 10 assists.

Connie Dierking scored 36 points in leading Cincinnati past Boston. Oscar Robertson contributed 29 points as the Royals built a 34-19 lead and never were headed. Larry Siegfried was high for the Celtics with 23.

Eddie Miles paced Detroit's triumph over St. Louis with 35 points and Dave Bing added 30. Lou Hudson led the Hawks with 24. The Pistons moved to within two games of third-place New York in the Eastern Division while remaining one-half game ahead of fifth-place Cincinnati.

Baltimore stormed out to a 96-66 third-period lead over Los Angeles and coasted in as Ray Scott, Kevin Loughery and Earl Monroe scored 29, 22 and 21 points, respectively, for the winners.

The day's low round, a one-over-par 73, won Razorback Randy Reed two medalist points. Sharing the other point were Tulsa's Mike Rittlerod and Ross Elder, both with 74.5.

Duke Stall Completes NIT Lineup

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Duke, stalled for a couple days, finally completed the National Invitation Tournament field, and now that they are in, the Blue Devils hope for a fast getaway.

But the NCAA, already speeding along with one weekend of play completed, still is waiting for its last team only three days before this weekend's regionals when its tournament tempo really quickens.

Either Iowa or Ohio State will be the last team to qualify for the NCAA field when they meet Tuesday night on a neutral court at Purdue to break a tie for the Big Ten title and decide the automatic bid to the tournament.

Tournament officials took their time filling the NIT field. Not influenced by Duke's 12-10 loss to stalling North Carolina State Friday night in the Atlantic Coast Conference championship tournament, the officials waited until North Carolina bombed State 87-50 Saturday night for the title and then took the Blue Devils over runner-up State.

Duke, one of the favorites, helps open the NIT Thursday night against Oklahoma City, 20-6, a team that averages 90 points per contest.

Marshall, 17-7, and St. Peter's, N.J., 21-2, another pair of hot-shot clubs, play the first game of the opening double-header with the first round of the 16-team field to be completed Friday night and Saturday afternoon and night with twin-bills.

Iowa missed one chance at the title last Saturday night by losing to Michigan 71-70 at home after failing to make up a 16-point deficit.

Regardless of the outcome of the Iowa-Ohio State playoff, the winner is not expected to survive the regional at Lexington, Ky., in which fourth-ranked Kentucky is favored.

The Big Ten representative meets East Tennessee, 19-6, which got this far by beating Florida State 79-69 at Kent, Ohio, last Saturday.

Marquette, 22-6, after nudging Bowling Green 71-70 at Kent, takes on Kentucky in the second game at Lexington Friday night.

Houston, top-ranked at 29-0, is favored to handle ninth-ranked Louisville, 20-6, Friday night at Wichita, Kan., and then beat the winner of the meeting between Texas Christian, 14-10, and Kansas State 19-7.

Houston got through the first round with a 94-76 victory over Chicago Loyola at Salt Lake City last Saturday night as Elvin Hayes hit 49 points and took in 27 rebounds. Kansas State clinched the Big Eight title at home that night with a 49-47 decision over Oklahoma City.

UCLA, No. 2, is the choice at Albuquerque, N.M. The Bruins, 25-1, open against New Mexico State, 22-5, with New Mexico, No. 7 at 23-3, opposing Santa Clara, 22-3, in the other game there Friday night.

New Mexico State ousted Weber State 61-57 at Salt Lake City while Santa Clara won the WCAC title by whipping California Loyola 77-62.

The East regional at Raleigh, N.C., is wide open as Columbia, No. 8 at 22-4, takes on Davidson, No. 10, at 23-4, and St. Bonaventure, No. 3 at 23-0, collides with North Carolina, No. 5, at 25-3.

Columbia reached the regional by routing LaSalle 83-69 before Davidson overcame St. John's, N.Y., 79-70, last Saturday afternoon at College Park, Md. The Bonnies eliminated Boston College 102-93 at Kingston, R.I.

The winners Friday night play Saturday night for the right to the semifinals Friday, March 22 at Los Angeles with the finals there Saturday, March 23.

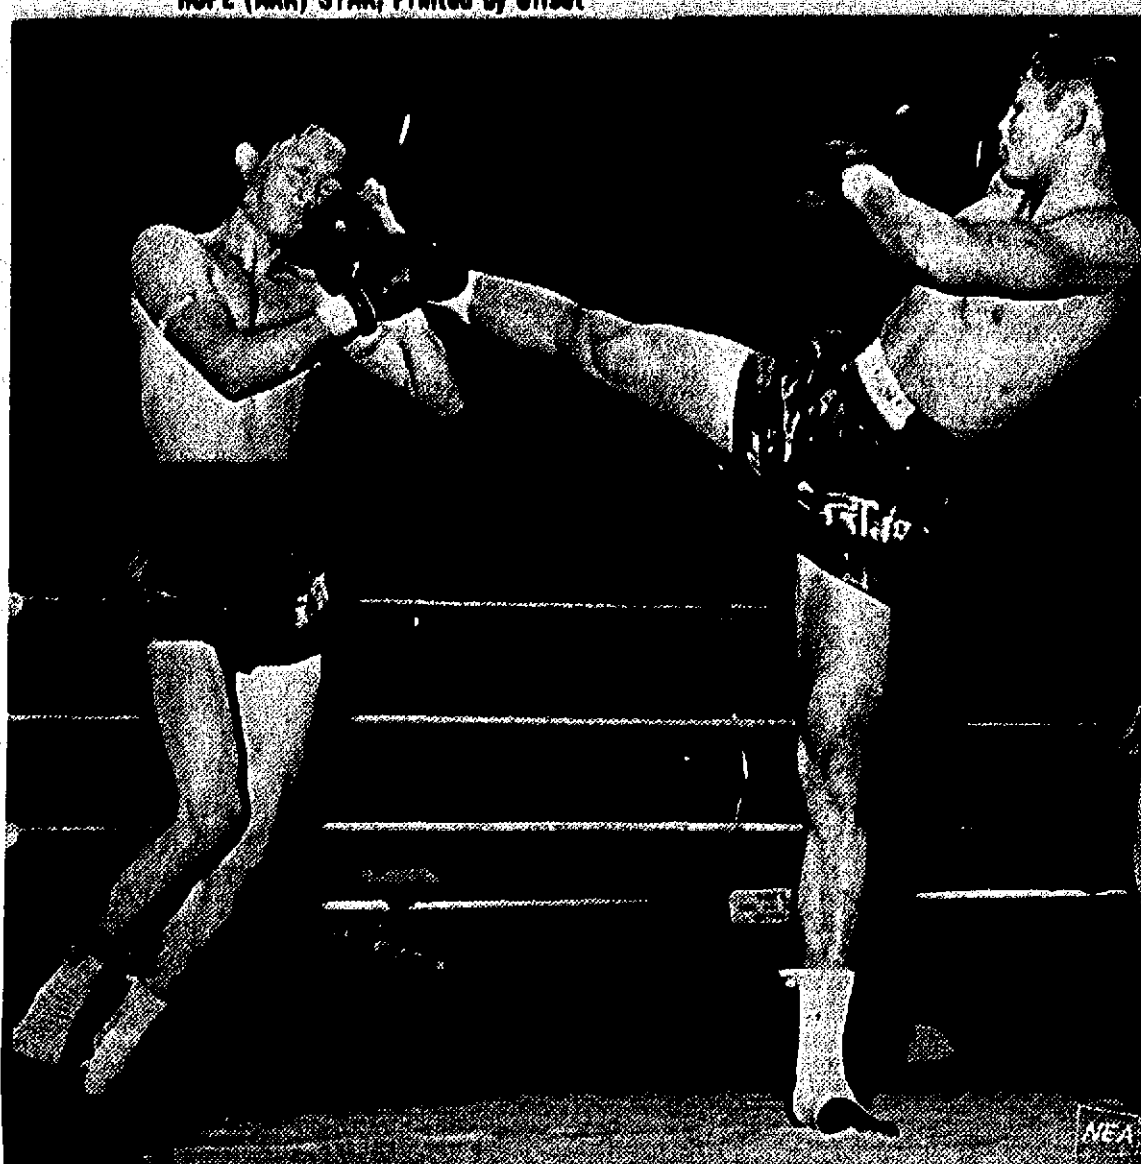

The NIT first round continues Friday night when Kansas, 19-7, meets Temple, 19-8.

The Olympic Games are scheduled for October in Mexico City.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Crossett's Eagles, boosted by the 28-point performance of Terry Hankton, became the first Region 4AA team to win the Class AA State Tournament by defeating Marianna 61-45 here Saturday night.

Crossett defeated Greene County Tech, Harrison and Leachville to reach the tournament finals. All three usually field state championship contenders.

"We had such a good start against Leachville," said Crossett Coach Ted Lyons after his Eagles had beaten Carlianna. "When we found out we could play with them, the boys really got after it."

"But as far as the best game is concerned, I guess we played our best four quarters tonight," Lyons said. "Yes, it had to be."

Crossett led 29-11 at the half and held a 23-point margin entering the final period. The Eagles led by three at the first stop but Hankton scored eight of his 13 first half points in the second period.

The Porcupines scored only three points in the second period.

Mike Sawyer scored 17 points, including 11 in the final period, for Marianna.

French Star Coming to Compete Here

MERIBEL, France (AP) — Jean Claude Killy, France's ace skier, was due to arrive in New York today after strengthening his hold on first place in the World Ski Cup standings by winning the Meribel International giant slalom race Sunday.

Killy will stop off in New York en route to two more World Cup events at Aspen, Colo. and Heavenly Valley, Calif.

Killy, a triple gold medal winner at the Grenoble Olympics, won the second run at Meribel in one minute, 32.07 seconds. He had a two-run total of 2:46.01 and beat out countryman Georges Mauduit by four hundredths of a second. Mauduit had led after Friday's first run. Guy Perrillat of France was third in 2:49.07.

Northside Stralls Out a Victory

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fort Smith Northside stalled for almost a minute Saturday night before Jerry Jennings sank a jump shot with four seconds remaining to give the Grizzlies a 46-44 victory over Southside in the finals of the Class AAA State Tournament.

The Grizzlies and Rebels were tied 44-44 with 59 seconds left when Northside Coach Gayle Kaundart called time out.

"I told them to shoot when the time was right, no matter who had the ball," Kaundart said. "Whenever there was a good shooting situation."

"I had to hit it," Jennings said. "I had to. I wanted to keep it from going into overtime."

The Grizzlies, top ranked team in the state for the past several weeks, closed out with 25 straight victories.

"Boys, that's the way to come through," Kaundart told his players after the game. "You played like No. 1, just like you did all year."

Northside did not lead until the final quarter when Almer Lee sank a 20-foot jump shot to give the Grizzlies a 36-34 advantage with 5:15 remaining.

Robert Bennett and Robert Stephens, put the Rebels back on top 38-36 with 4:58 left. Southside gained a three-point lead before Northside rallied.

The Rebels led 9-8 at the end of the first period and held a five-point advantage at the half. The Grizzlies used a press to shake Southside in the third period and tied the game 34-34 on Lee's 20-foot jumper with less than seven minutes remaining.

Lee scored 16 points and Jennings had 12. Charles Watson hit 11 for Southside while Jim Hamilton and Bennett had 10 each.

Mr. Right Was Right Fine Gift

By ED SCHUYLER JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

Many wedding presents are stored away and forgotten, but Mrs. Peter Duchin has one that moves around and makes headlines.

The present is Mr. Right, and last Saturday he got big print by moving 1 1/4 miles to win the Santa Anita Handicap and top money of $100,000.

Mr. Right was presented to Mrs. Duchin by breeder George Zuaderer when she married the New York society musician.

And the 5-year-old struck some mighty happy notes for Mrs. Duchin in 1966 and last year by winning four stakes, but Saturday was his biggest beat.

It also was sweet music to his backers, who got a mutual return of $41.80, $22.60 and $14.

Miguel Yanez sent Mr. Right to the front as the field of 15 turned for home in the $145,000 race, and he drove to a two-length victory over another longshot, Jungle Road, who overtook third-place Ala Ram.

Favored Tobin Bronze was never a factor, finishing ninth, 11 lengths behind the winner.

The time was 2:04 3-5, second slowest in the 31-year history of the race, but the track was officially called slow. The slowest time was 2:05 2-5 by Thumbs Up in 1945. Bobby Brocato also won in 2:04 3-5 in 1956.

In Saturday's other big race, Herbert Allen's Favorable Turn scored by 1 1/2 lengths over Rixdal, with Bold Hour third, in the $65,500 Donn Handicap at Gulfstream Park.

Giants Have It All But Consistency

By JIM CHURCH, Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (AP) — The San Francisco Giants have everything but consistency.

Manager Herman Franks and club officials are trying this spring to plug that gap with physical conditioning.

If several key performers, mainly Willie Mays and Juan Marichal, had been available all last season, says Franks, the Giants could have won the National League pennant instead of finishing second 10 1/2 games behind St. Louis.

The Giants held third most of June, slipped to fifth in July, and stayed in second or third through August.

Under the direction of physiotherapist Bert Gustafson, the Giants have worked hard, running three miles a day while in Case Grande.

They didn't get down to serious baseball until arriving in Phoenix to begin the Cactus League schedule.

"They joked they were going to take up a collection to send me home," said Gustafson, who is 55 but looks 40, "but several told me it helped."

"Strength and stamina have much to do with injuries. Unlike most athletes, baseball players use bursts of strength — running, hitting and throwing — and then they cool off. The muscles get stiff and tear."

Muscle pulls could be lessened by beginning spring training running without cleats and not on grass, says Gustafson.

What's good for Carl Yastrzemski is good for the Giants, said Gustafson, so the Giants spent $5,000 installing a small gym at Candlestick Park. Yastrzemski attributed the improvement in his performance to strenuous physical conditioning in the off season.

Mays, who had his poorest season last year since joining the Giants in 1951, says he's "ready to go," and feels like playing "10 more years."

Mays, who will be 37 May 6, hit .263 with 22 homers and 70 runs batted in while playing 141 games. The center fielder, whose 564 career homers is topped only by Babe Ruth's 714, had some early season injuries.

Then he was hospitalized with the flu for a week in July, a month in which he hit only one homer.

Marichal, 29, reported on time this spring and says he is ready to regain the form which helped him win at least 20 games for four straight years.

Last season he reported late, pitched only once after straining a hamstring muscle on Aug. 4 and finished 14-10.

Jim Davenport, 34, with back and leg ailments, played 124 games and hit .275. He worked with Gustafson before spring training began and is apparently recovered.

Davenport, who played with Mays and 1967 Cy Young Award winner Mike McCormick on the first Giant team in San Francisco in 1958, has taken over third with Jim Ray Hart moving to left field.

The return of Davenport to third and the acquisition of Ron Hunt gives the Giants better defense in the infield, says Franks. And Hart, who hit .289 with 26 homers and 99 RBI, likes left better.

The Giants have won only one

Ray Berry Will Quit Football

BALTIMORE (AP) — Raymond Berry, the National Football League's all-time leading pass receiver who announced his retirement from the Baltimore Colts over the weekend, was, despite his individual brilliance, known as a team player.

Even his decision to retire apparently was prompted by Berry's concern that injuries, which limited his 1967 play to six games, would affect his performance in the future.

"I don't think it would be right of me to try to continue playing when I don't feel I could give the team the kind of season it has a right to expect," the 35-year-old split end said Sunday.

Berry, who overcame physical limitations through dedication and study, caught 631 passes for 9,275 yards and 68 touchdowns during his 13-year NFL career. He had but 11 receptions last year.

Natives Get Most of U.S. Ski Titles

By JACK HEWINS, Associated Press Sports Writer

SEATTLE (AP) — All the U.S. titles but two were in the hands of the natives today. After Rick Chaffee of Rutland, Vt., and Judy Nagle of Enumclaw, Wash., won Sunday's slalom competition to wind up the 1968 National Alpine Ski Championships.

The exceptions were the men's downhill and combined crowns, which went to Scott Henderson, 34-year-old Canadian star from Banff, Alta.

Most of the ski riders who competed in the three-day event on Crystal Mountain, 78 miles southeast of Seattle, left immediately for Aspen, Colo., to compete in the Roche Cup Races.

Winning both slalom and combined in San Francisco, in 1962, but during the past 10 years they have the best National League record with 887 victories compared with Los Angeles' 876.

Dickinson Survives in Stretch

By BEN FUNK, Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — Gardner Dickinson says he has "kicked away about 50 tournaments" in his 17 years on the golf trail, and he almost put the boot to another one when he finished the Doral Open Sunday with a bogey and double bogey.

But young Tom Weiskopf, with a chance to capitalize on Dickinson's ragged finish, showed that he, too, can kick away the golden opportunities in the clutch.

Surging from three strokes behind to tie Dickinson in a dramatic stretch run, Weiskopf blew it with a closing pair of bogeys and his 40-year-old foe walked away with the $20,000 top prize.

"I hate a finish like that," said a dead-panned Dickinson, "but I've got the check in my pocket."

The dramatic last-round duel, starting with the two men in a deadlock, was so tense that Weiskopf posted five bogeys and Dickinson three bogeys and a double bogey. It was the worst round of the tournament for both of them.

Dickinson wound up with a par 72 for a 13-under-par 275. Weiskopf took a 74 for 276.

Weiskopf, who missed a 10-foot putt at the 18th that would have thrown the match into a sudden-death playoff, had the satisfaction of taking over the lead in the 1968 money-winning race.

His $12,000 check ran his bankroll to $52,546 and shoved him ahead of Canadian George Knudson, who failed to survive the 36-hole cut here following consecutive victories at Phoenix and Tucson.

Rookie Has Return Title for Houston

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Zeke Moore of the Houston Oilers beat out another rookie, Nolan Smith of Kansas City, for the kickoff return title in the American Football League last season, official final statistics revealed today.

Moore returned 14 kickoffs for 405 yards and an average of 28.9 yards a carry, edging Smith, who averaged 28.0 on 41 returns for 1,148 yards.

Smith, the Chiefs' 5-foot-6 1/2 rookie, ran back the most kickoffs for the most yards and also set a league record with a 106-yard touchdown return against Denver.

Two other rookies, Floyd Little of Denver and Dick Post of San Diego, were third and fourth, Little averaging 26.9 and Post 24.7.

Moore scored the only other touchdown on a kickoff, a 92-yard return.

Denver, as a team, had the best average, 25.3 yards, to 23.5 for Kansas City.

lined championships for the feminine side of the snow scramble, 16-year-old Miss Nagle typifies the youth movement taking command in U.S. Alpine skiing.

Ann Black, 18, of Seattle won the women's downhill on opening day and Marilyn Cochran of Richmond, Vt., also 18, took Saturday's giant slalom.

THE WELL CHILD® Future Holds Promise For Jaundiced Babies

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Jaundice present in an infant at birth may indicate erythroblastosis due to Rh incompatibility of the parents. Jaundice is also often present in babies who weigh less than 5 1/2 pounds at birth and are therefore considered premature. When jaundice develops after three to six days of life, as it does in about 20 per cent of infants, it may be a benign condition that disappears without treatment before the child is two weeks old or it may be associated with an often fatal concentration of bile salts in the brain. Some of those who survive are afflicted with cerebral palsy. Since there is no sure way to tell which babies with jaundice will have serious complications, all should be treated. Formerly an exchange transfusion (completely replacing the baby's blood) was the only way of saving these babies, but new and simpler ways have been found. In addition to preventing brain damage, they also avoid the risks associated with transfusions.

At the De Goesbriand Memorial Hospital in Burlington, Vt., premature babies, whether they had jaundice or not, were placed in an Isolette. They wore nothing but a diaper and a bandage to protect their eyes and they were flooded with the light from a 20-watt daylight fluorescent light day and night for six days. None developed jaundice compared with 20 per cent of those who were not so treated.

At Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Camden, N.J., all jaundiced babies are given charcoal with their feedings. Although they don't like it, the routine use of this treatment has brought the concentration of bile salts in the blood down to normal and made exchange transfusions unnecessary.

Jaundice sometimes develops in breast-fed babies seven to 10 days after birth. This has recently been shown to be caused by a high concentration of the steroid, pregnanediol, in the mother's milk. When these infants were put on formula feedings, the jaundice disappeared. With these improved methods of treatment, the future outlook for jaundiced babies is greatly improved.

Shed Thin by The Editor
Alex. N. Washburn
Short Stuff
A Back for Touring Dog

"Shed Thin" is the title of a squib L. Carter Johnson passed on to me from the Great Northern Railway Co. magazine Goat. It goes like this: Teacher: "Where is the capital of the United States?" Student: "In loans, all over the world."

As a dogowner I have always been curious about how motels and hotels handle the problem of dog-accompanied tourists. Once I asked the manager of an Alamo court on the Gulf Coast what he did about it.

"What can you do?" he retorted. "Half our customers got dogs with them."

Not to mention traveling cats, sunning themselves on the ledge behind the back seat of a sedan heading South. I used to think the hostilities discriminated against dogs in favor of cats, but times are changing. The door is open to pets almost everywhere.

Gaines Dog Research Center, 250 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017, a division of the dog-food manufacturer, has just gotten out a directory of motels and hotels which accommodate travelers with dogs.

That's for the courts that have kennels.

The others just look the other way, knowing if there's a dog in the car the traveler isn't going to say so, and Bowser will sneak into the apartment after dark regardless of regulations.

Cold, Wet Through Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cold, wet weather is expected in Arkansas through Tuesday as a deep low pressure centers over extreme southern Texas and northern Mexico and an upper level low pressure hovers over western Texas.

The combined low pressures are expected to create thunderstorms and storms over much of the state and hold temperatures down, the U.S. Weather Bureau reported.

Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 38 degrees at Harrison to 50 at El Dorado. Highs reported Sunday ranged from 46 at Fayetteville to 75 at El Dorado.

Traces of rainfall were reported around most of the state in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today with Texarkana measuring 1.41 inches.

Mehaffey Takes Leave of Absence

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — J. Q. Mehaffey of Texarkana will begin a leave of absence as executive director of the Texarkana Gazette and Daily News April 1 to take charge of citizen participation in planning and implementing the Model Cities Program on both the Arkansas and Texas sides of Texarkana, it was announced here Saturday.

Walter E. Hussman, who granted the leave as president of the Palmer Media Group, which owns the newspapers, said, "When one has provided 39 years of continual service to an organization, he has made a contribution that entitles him to a debt of gratitude from both the employer and his fellow employees."

Mehaffey, who has been executive editor or managing editor of the Gazette and Daily News for the last 22 years, said he felt the Model Cities Program offered Texarkana a "golden opportunity" to achieve national recognition in urban development, "not only in physical properties, but in human resources."

"What could be more exciting than a key role in the building and promotion of one's hometown?" he asked.

Mehaffey began work for the newspapers July 5, 1929, one month after his graduation from Furman University at Greenville, S.C. He has held every position in the news department with the exception of sports editor.

Final Vote on Rights Bill Likely

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Leaders, apparently assured they face no last-ditch Southern filibuster, are pushing for a quick final vote on landmark civil rights legislation.

An overwhelming 61-19 vote Friday on the bill with its controversial open-housing provision cleared the way for final action today.

Indicating he has been promised that Southern opponents plan no further filibuster, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield scheduled prompt action on long-delayed money and Senate ethics proposals.

Senate action on a pressing supplemental appropriation that includes welfare funds for states was scheduled later today. Mansfield said he expected consideration of ethics recommendations to begin Tuesday.

Senate approval would return the civil rights bill to the House, which passed it last August as a limited measure dealing only

Believe It or Not But Gold Sometimes Does Grow on Trees

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Husbands have been telling their wives for years now that money doesn't grow on trees. However, gold does. Gold has been found in minute quantities in willow, fir and aspen trees, the National Geographic points out. But woodsman, spare those branches. There isn't enough precious metal in them to make it worthwhile to cut down the trees.

LONDON (AP) — The gold rush subsided on the London market today following the announcement by the seven-nation gold pool that it would keep the price at $35 an ounce. But on the Zurich market the initial demand appeared to be only slightly below that of Friday.

One Zurich banker said the gold pool's announcement "does not seem to have had the desired effect, as far as we can judge at this time."

The pound jumped 16.32, 3980 on the London foreign exchange market, after closing Friday at $2,392.25, its lowest level.

At the daily gold fixing in London, at which representatives of the major dealers balance the demand for gold against the supply and set the price, turnover of less than 10 tons was anticipated.

Dealers said that despite the drop in demand for gold, there was no active selling by speculators who have built up hoards of the metal since the devaluation of the pound in November.

The consensus among London dealers was that the gold pool's action was sufficient to halt speculators but was not far-reaching enough to shake out sellers yet.

Frankfurt banks reported the demand for gold there had subsided but pointed out that Monday is normally a quiet day for gold trading.

Officials Fired in S. Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government today fired seven of its 44 province chiefs, including its man in Hue, it was the biggest housecleaning so far as a result of the Communist lunar new year offensive. Earlier the government replaced two of its four politically important corps commanders.

Lt. Col. Phan Van Khoa was replaced as mayor of Hue and chief of Thua Thien Province by Lt. Col. Le Van Thanh, who had been assigned to the joint general staff headquarters in Saigon.

Khoa had been severely criticized by U.S. officials for hiding out in civilian clothes for seven days while the Communists overran Hue. One American official said Khoa did nothing about the wave of looting in the stricken city for 17 days and "by then everything had been stolen, sometimes twice."

It was more than three weeks after the capture of Hue before Khoa began to get the shaky government machinery moving at all.

New chiefs also were named for the provinces of Darlac, Binh Thuan, Vinh Long, An Giang, Ba Xuyen and Tuyen Duc.

A new chief also was named for Quang Duc Province, whose head man was killed in a helicopter crash recently.

Evers Not Given Much of a Chance

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — White candidate Charles H. Griffin is an odds-on favorite to defeat Negro leader Charles Evers by a wide majority in a special election runoff for Congress Tuesday.

Polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. for the 195,000 voters in the 12 counties of southwest Mississippi's 3rd district, represented 21 years in Washington by Gov. John Bell Williams.

Griffin, 41, of Utica, N.Y., aide to Williams for 18 years, has largely kept silent, saying he has had the flu, since Evers' 33,706 votes led six white candidates in the first round of the special election Feb. 27, when 114,871 votes were cast, Griffin got 28,927.

A Negro-white split is expected in balloting. Whites have about 125,000 votes, Negroes 70,000. Voting on racial lines was in evidence in the Feb. 27 returns, in precincts and by counties.

Treasury Information Leaks May Have Cost Government Billions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price of stock in a certain company suddenly jumps one day amidst heavy trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The next day the government awards a fat contract to that same firm.

Suspicion arises: Did a government employee or a congressional insider leak advance word of the contract? Or buy a stock themselves based on information obtained in their official capacities?

The realm of government insiders and security dealings is murky. Proving a connection is difficult; analyzing market behavior for clues is filled with pitfalls; legal distinctions can be tricky.

The Treasury Department reported last Tuesday on one information leak that could have meant windfall profits for bond speculators.

The information dealt with a $25 billion sale of U.S. bonds. The treasury report traced its leak to a middle-level employee who died of a heart attack a week after he was suspended.

"I am not convinced this leak is the only one that has occurred," said Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking Committee. He wants to investigate.

Rumors of another government information leak arose last Jan. 25, the day President Johnson activated some air reservists and air guardsmen in response to North Korea's seizure of the intelligence ship Pueblo.

Vietnam Policy Critics Expected to Focus on American Troop Levels

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk offered today to stop the bombing of North Vietnam to get war settlement talks going.

Testifying at the long-awaited confrontation with war critics on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Rusk said in order to bring about the talks "we are willing to meet their principal condition — stopping of the bombing."

Whatever provisos may exist as to reciprocal action by the other side, Rusk did not spell them out immediately.

He renewed the U.S. pledge that "we are prepared to negotiate today without any conditions."

Rusk's statement came at the end of a sharp exchange with Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, who told the secretary he is more than ever convinced "that our present policies in Vietnam have had and will have effects 'abroad and at home that are nothing short of disastrous.'"

Enemy Guns Blow Tons of Ammunition

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 102 enemy troops in a northern frontier battle Sunday, but enemy gunners blew up tons of ammunition at a U.S. Navy base just below the eastern end of the demilitarized zone.

A spokesman said South Vietnamese casualties were light in the eight-hour fight with an estimated 600 Communist soldiers, the eighth major encounter since Feb. 29 for government troops below the DMZ. He said the South Vietnamese captured seven suspects and 25 weapons and that their casualties were only three killed and 37 wounded.

As the men of the 2nd South Vietnamese Infantry Regiment battled five miles north of Dong Ha, North Vietnamese gunners blasted the American naval supply and repair base at the mouth of the Cua Viet River, 15 miles south of the DMZ.

U.S. spokesmen said casualties at the naval complex were light, but they reported numerous fires and secondary explosions in stockpiles of ammunition and other war materiel.

More artillery rounds, about 200 of them, landed on a South Vietnamese outpost 11 miles below the DMZ, and nearly 40 shells hit a nearby base camp of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division. No casualties or serious damage was reported at the Marine camp, and one soldier was killed at the government outpost.

For the third straight day, the Marines at Khe Sanh received more than 250 rounds of rocket, artillery and mortar fire Sunday. U.S. headquarters said American casualties were light.

The Americans countered with fighter-bomber raids against North Vietnamese gun positions inside the DMZ, and B-52 saturation bombing attacks on suspected positions of enemy troops menacing Khe Sanh and Hue. The B-52s also struck enemy positions 12 miles northwest of Dak To, near the Cambodian border, and 25 miles northeast of Saigon.

U.S. spokesmen for the first time reported a Communist truck convoy in the vicinity of Hue. They said American gunship helicopters sighted eight

Conigliaro Regaining Batting Eye

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It looks like Boston's Tony Conigliaro is seeing just one baseball again — and seeing it well — and that should give American League pitchers some unpleasant visions about the upcoming baseball season.

The slugging Red Sox outfielder was hit on the left temple by a pitch from Jack Hamilton of California last Aug. 18 and he did not return for the remainder of the season or the World Series because of double vision.

But Conigliaro showed he is regaining his batting eye by cracking a single and double and hitting the ball hard in his only other at-bat as the Red Sox trounced Oakland 14-4 in an exhibition game Sunday at Winter Haven, Fla.

The Red Sox, who banged out 20 hits, broke the game open in the first inning by scoring six runs off Bob Rodriguez. George Scott contributed two triples to the Boston attack.

The new spitball rule continued to give pitcher trouble. This time two Chicago hurlers were ejected for touching their hands to their mouths in the Cubs' 3-1 loss to California.

Starter Frank Reberger was ejected in the second inning, and reliever Dean Burn was given the thumb an inning later. Each was given one warning by umpire Emmett Ashford.

There were three extra inning games Sunday. Two ended in ties, and both involved New York clubs.

The New York Mets tied St. Louis 1-1 in 14 innings, and the New York Yankees and Baltimore battled to a 7-7 standoff in 13 innings.

St. Louis scored in the sixth inning when Phil Gagliano reached third when Don Wilkinson misjudged is fly to left field and came home on Dick Simpson's single. The Mets tied it in the eighth on singles by Bud Harrelson, Ed Kranepool and Jerry Morales.

Brooks Robinson drove in five Baltimore runs with two homers and a double. Mike Hegan knocked in two Yankee runs with a pair of singles and kept Baltimore from winning in the bottom of the 10th by making a diving stop at first base of a ball hit by Dave Johnson.

In other exhibition action, Cincinnati beat the Chicago White Sox 3-1, Minnesota edged Detroit 5-4 in 10 innings, Philadelphia outslugged Pittsburgh 7-6 and Cleveland nipped San Francisco 5-4, Los Angeles blanked Atlanta 4-0. The Houston-Washington game was called off.

Don Pavletich was the key to Cincinnati's victory, pounding consecutive home runs. Leo Cardenas also homered for the Reds. Outfielder Pete Rose and catcher John Bench both left the Reds for two weeks active duty with an Army Reserve unit.

Minnesota gained its victory when rookie first baseman Bill Hahn drilled a two-out single with the bases loaded in the 10th inning. Harmon Killebrew hit a solo homer for Minnesota, and Jim Northrup clouted one for Detroit.

Tony Taylor singled home Denny Doyle, who tripled in the ninth inning for Philadelphia's victory. Pittsburgh had tied it in the top of the inning when Jose Pagan smacked his second homer of the game. Cookie Rojas, Philadelphia's jack-of-all-positions ended his holdout by coming to terms.

Cleveland got all of its five runs in the fourth inning off Mike McCormick and then held off San Francisco which scored three times in the ninth.

Los Angeles' new shortstop, Zolito Versailles who came from Minnesota, drove in two runs and started three double plays for the Dodgers.

Red Wings Twice Blow Good Leads

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Coach Sid Abel had nothing to worry about. Everybody knows lightning never strikes twice in the same place.

Abel's Detroit Red Wings had blown a 4-0 lead and lost a shattering 7-5 National Hockey League game to Toronto Saturday night. So naturally, when they pulled a repeat performance and frittered away a 5-0 bulge against Boston Sunday, Abel still wasn't too shook up.

Not much.

The Wings steadied themselves behind relief goalie Roger Crozier and used third-period goals by Jimmy Peters and Frank Mahovlich for a 7-5 victory to climax a nightmarish weekend for Abel.

In other Sunday action, Bill Flett's last-minute goal gave Los Angeles a 4-3 victory over New York. Philadelphia blanked Minnesota 2-0, Chicago shut out Toronto 4-0 and St. Louis nipped Oakland 1-0.

In Saturday's other games, New York tied Minnesota 1-1, Montreal shut out Chicago 5-0, Pittsburgh stopped Los Angeles 3-1 and St. Louis dropped Oakland 3-1.

It took the Wings just 28 minutes to rush into the 5-0 lead against Boston with Alex Delvecchio scoring twice and Gordie Howe, Pete Stemkowski and Bruce MacGregor getting one each.

But the Bruins staged a furious rally that tied the score with five goals in five minutes of the second period. Ted Green started the surge at 11:29 and in rapid succession John McKenzie, Tommy Williams, Ken Hodge and Glen Sather hit. Sather's goal came with Boston short a man.

Abel brought Crozier in for the third period and the Wings held the Bruins off until Peters scored with six minutes left to play. Then Mahovlich sent the clincher into an empty net in the closing seconds.

Flett's second goal of the night with just 20 seconds left to play ended a 16-game Ranger Sunday unbeaten streak. The rookie outlenced New York goalie Ed Giacomin for the puck and hit the net as Giacomin struggled to recover.

Jean Ratelle scored twice for New York, which played without high-scoring Rod Gilbert. Gilbert had an adverse reaction to medication taken for shoulder and stomach muscle injuries.

Ken Wharram scored twice and rookie Jack Norris was unbeatable in goal as Chicago blanked Toronto. Norris made 27 saves including one on a penalty shot against Mike Walton.

Hawkins Has to Account for Money

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins, charged in a taxpayer-picked up three assists and holds a four-point edge on Rattelle.

Joe Watson and Forbes Kennedy scored the third-period goals that gave homeless Philadelphia its victory over Minnesota. The game was played at Quebec City because of wind damage to the Flyers' home rink, the Philadelphia Spectrum.

Cesare Maniago, the North Stars' starting goalie, was carried off the ice with a possible concussion after taking a first-period shot by Don Blackburn in the face.

Craig Cameron's 15-foot slap shot late in the first period and goalie Glenn Hall's fourth shut-out of the season were all that St. Louis needed in whipping Oakland for the seventh time in eight outings.

Hall has blanked the Seals three times in allowing just six goals. The veteran netminder made just 16 saves — only two in the final period.

ers' suit with misappropriating several thousand dollars in county funds between 1963 and 1966, began accounting for the money today as the trial of the suit resumed in Chancery Court here.

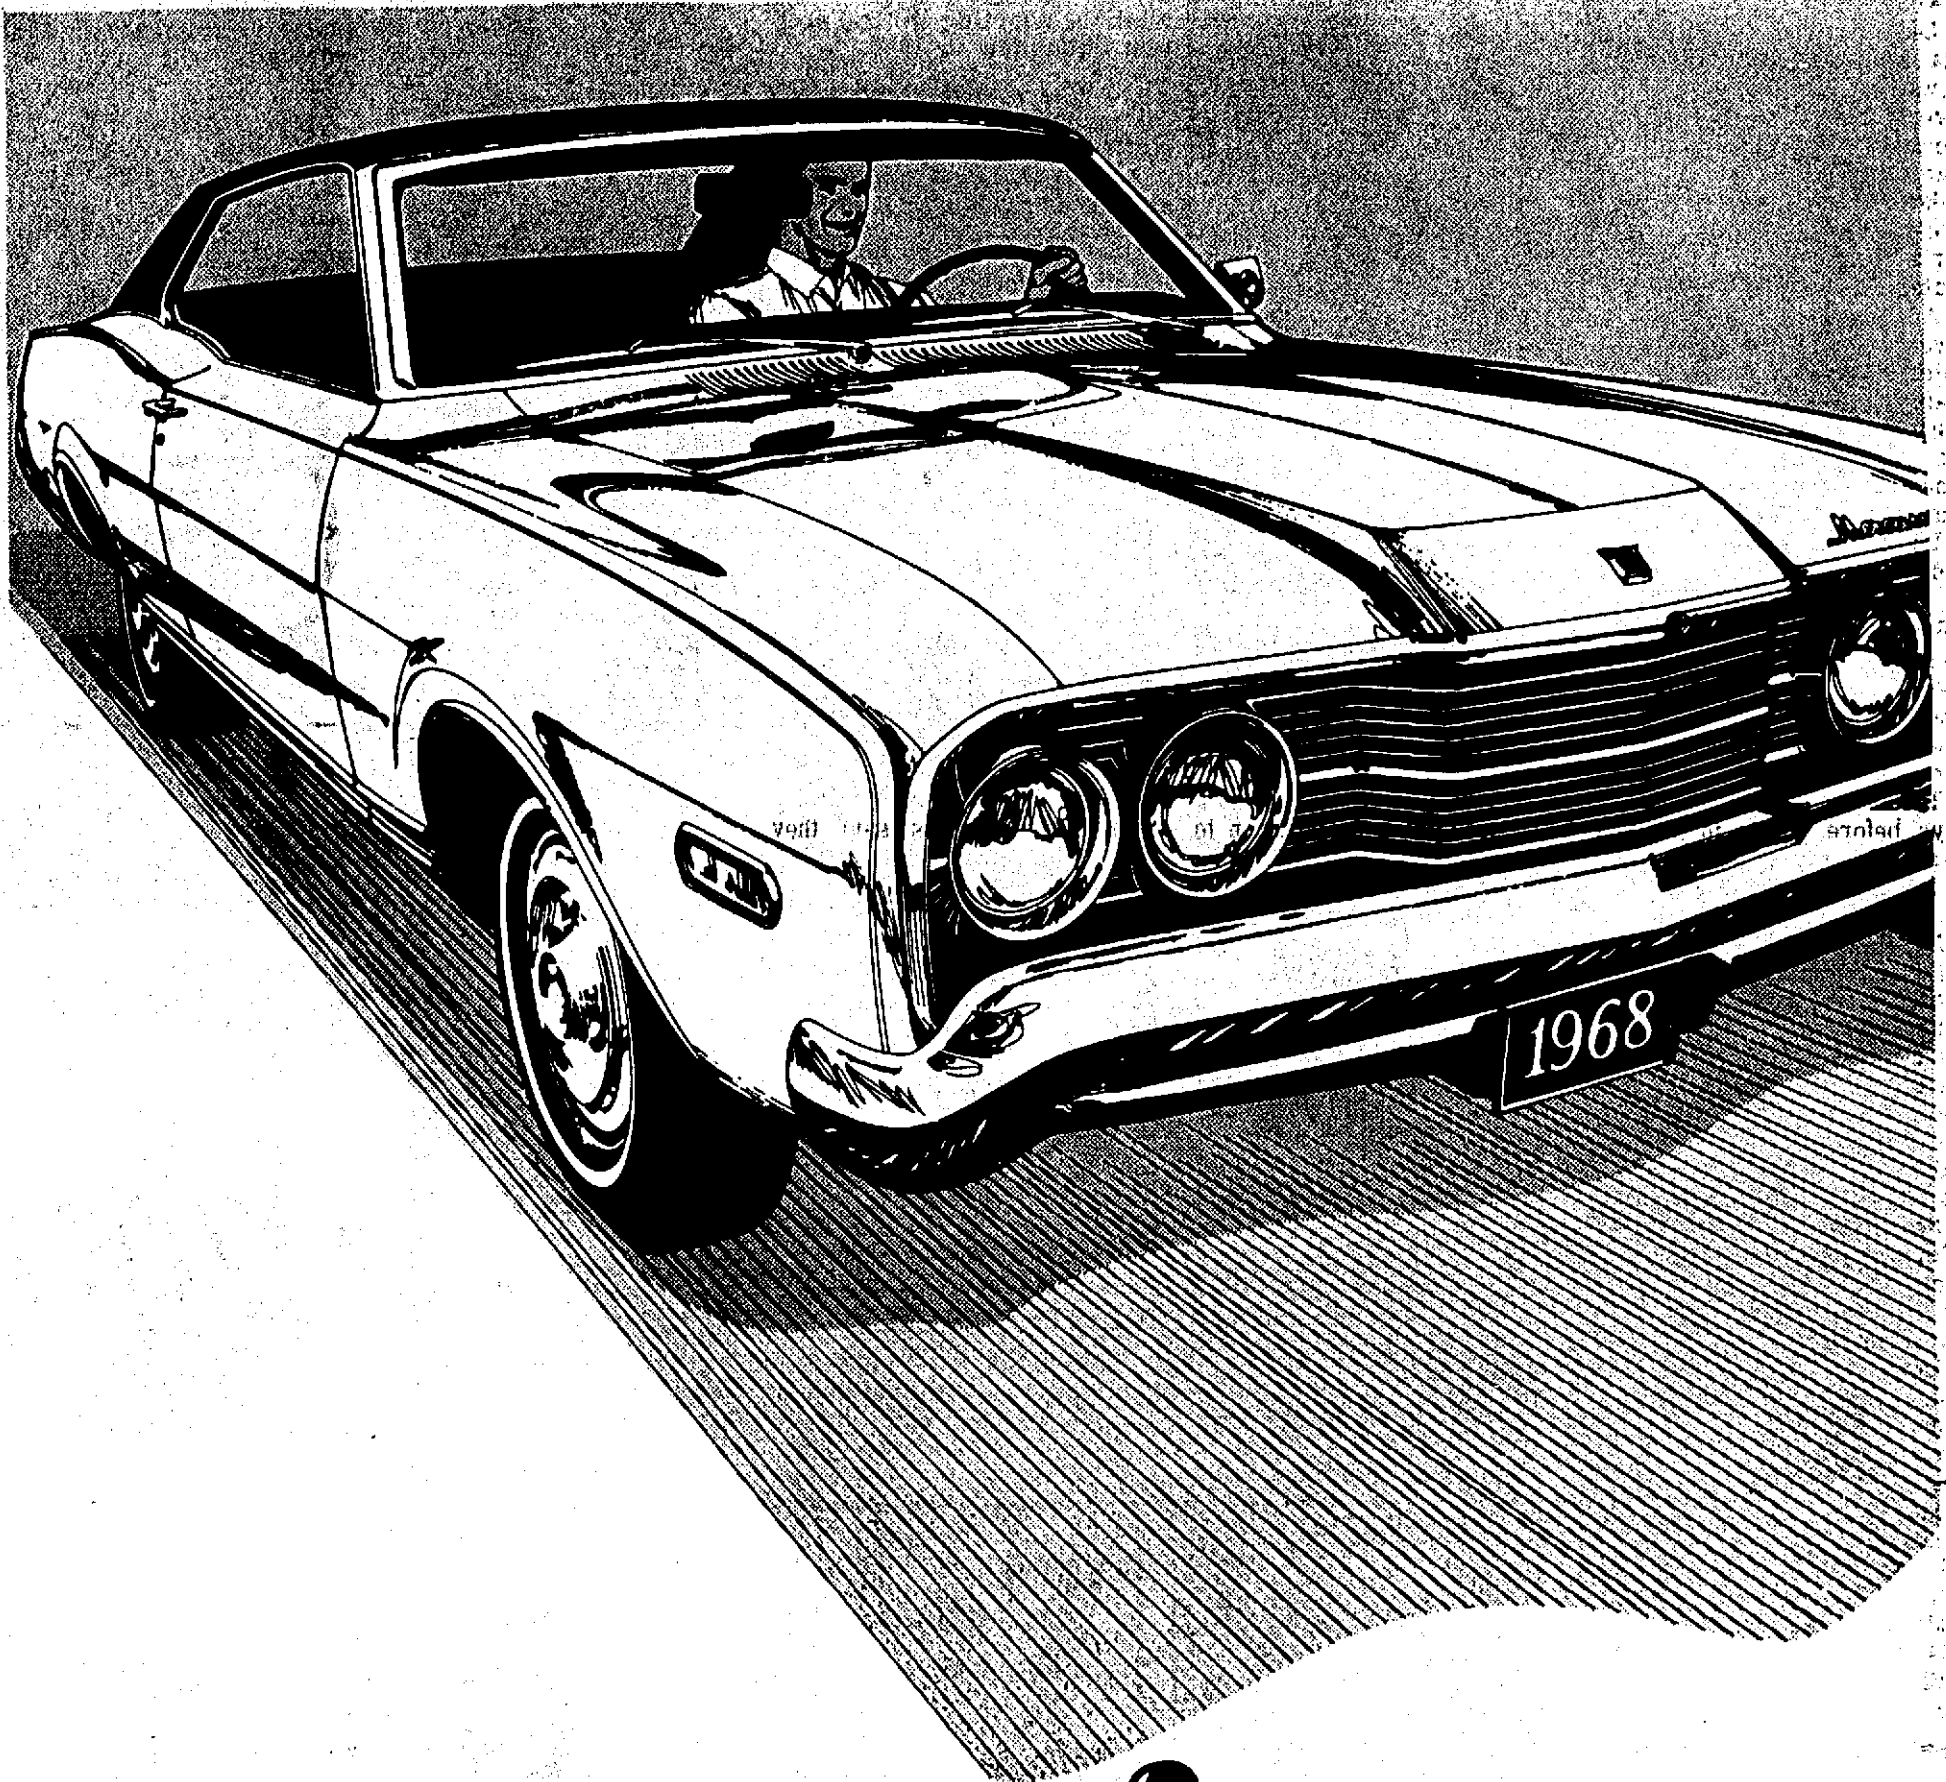

Hawkins could be held liable for payment of those funds for which he can show no proper disposition, and a judgment against him would disqualify him for serving as sheriff.

His attorneys, former U. S. Gov. Nathan Gordon of Morrilton and former Asst. Atty. Gen. Jack L. Lessenberry of Little Rock, indicated today that they expected the trial to continue through Thursday.

Circuit Judge Bobby Steel of Nashville, who is sitting as a special chancellor, probably won't hand down a decision until mid-April, after attorneys have been given an opportunity to file briefs and answers.

During the first phase of the trial here last December, attorneys Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana and Oscar Fendler of Blytheville attempted to prove that more than $200,000 in county funds were unaccounted for between 1964 and 1966.

They alleged that Hawkins conspired to defraud the county by altering county records in a scheme that involved the misappropriation of bond money forfeited by motorists arrested for traffic violations.

Rockefeller Urged to Get Active

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 20 top Republicans, summoned to a strategy meeting with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller at his Fifth Avenue apartment, have urged him strongly to become "an announced and active candidate" for the Republican presidential nomination.

A spokesman for the group that included seven governors, three U.S. senators, five congressmen and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, said Rockefeller would decide about plunging into the race after consulting with other party leaders in the next few days.

Rockefeller, who has maintained he would not be a candidate unless there was a draft, had no comment following Sunday's two-hour, closed-door strategy session.

Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon, one of those at the meeting, said he urged the New York governor to challenge former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the May 28 Oregon primary. Rockefeller has until March 22 to declare himself out of that election.

McCall said Rockefeller's candidacy was "no longer an abstraction" following the meeting. Asked if he thought it constituted a draft, McCall replied: "Well, it's almost irresistible."

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania read a brief statement to newsmen that said there was "very strong sentiment" that Rockefeller get into the race as "an announced and active candidate." Asked if all those present had endorsed Rockefeller's candidacy, Scott said the statement spoke for itself.

A written statement was not given out. Scott read from notes, which he retained. The statement said Rockefeller "will consult other party leaders in the next few days and his decision will ultimately be made by himself."

Lindsay said he believed everyone at the meeting subscribed to the statement and that he himself approved "100 per cent." It was the first known meeting between Lindsay and Rockefeller since they clashed over ways to end New York's recent garbage collectors strike.

The meeting came only two days before voting in the New Hampshire primary where Nixon is expected to collect a victory.

Nixon, who lives in the same building as Rockefeller, was not invited to the meeting.

Rockefeller aides said the meeting was called to discuss the state of the GOP since Gov. George Romney of Michigan was backed by Rockefeller, withdrew from the race, leaving Nixon the sole major contender in New Hampshire.

Romney was invited but declined to attend, saying he does not engage in politics on Sunday.

Scott said the statement he read was subscribed to by Rep. John Dellenback of Oregon, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, Gov. John Chafee of Rhode Island, former GOP national chairman Meade Alcorn and former Rep. William D. Miller of New York, Barry Goldwater's running mate in the 1964 presidential election.

Miller, considered a conservative Republican, said he felt

Treasury Moves on Tax Reforms

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — After more than a year of study, the Johnson administration has started down the road to tax reform in its plan to eliminate the exemption for state and local industrial development bonds.

Before the total job is completed, the nation's entire tax structure is likely to come under congressional scrutiny, including the controversial 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance.

Although the administration has yet to unveil its long-promised tax reform package, the Treasury Department has decided to move on its own to end what it considers an abuse of tax exempt development bonds issued in the name of states and localities.

In reality, the Treasury said, these are nothing more than a bond used by a corporation to get a cheap interest rate for plant expansion and thus represent a federal subsidy.

Because interest on the bonds is free of federal income taxes, they can be floated at a lower rate than regular corporate bonds.

The Treasury can eliminate the exemption by administrative action because the bonds

Rockefeller's candidacy was "vital for our party."

When Rockefeller arrived at the meeting from his home in suburban Tarrytown, newsmen swarmed around him and asked if he might announce his candidacy following the meeting.

"No no," he said. But he also said: "I'm ready and willing to serve if the people want it."

It was anticipated that if Rockefeller did decide to become a candidate there would be no announcement until after Friday, the closing day for entering the Nebraska primary.

Nebraska is considered firmly in the Nixon camp.

Slowed Down Garbage Man

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — Prince Charles wrote his first piece for the Cambridge University magazine, Varsity, and now the singing garbage man comes around two hours later.

Charles, 19-year-old freshman, wrote last week of "the monotonous jovial dustman's refrain of 'On Come All Ye Faithful' and the headsplitting clang of dustbins" below his Trinity College window around 7 a.m.

Frank Clarke, 46, driver of a garbage truck, admits being the singer and noted that his department changed the college collection time to 9 a.m.

Commented Clarke: "I'm sorry if I woke the prince up, but being an ex-army man I think that 7 a.m. is time enough for anybody to be up and about."

As for his singing of the hymn, Clarke said, "It's a good deep tune and I've got a deep voice."

were originally declared tax exempt by a 1954 Treasury ruling. Treasury officials said they are doing hard-pressed state and local taxpayers a favor by moving now.

Industrial development bonds issued in the name of a local government—at least $1.4 billion worth were issued last year—compete with regular municipal bonds and thus drive up their cost, the treasury said.

And when a local or state government must pay a higher interest rate, the result is higher property taxes, sales taxes and state income taxes.

The effort to push through this reform—which many states have requested—could be the easiest faced by the Treasury in the long list of reforms to be unveiled. They reportedly will be made known after Congress begins to act on the 10 per cent income tax surcharge proposal.

The administration wants to keep the surcharge and tax reform package separate. Tax reform legislation is expected to take at least a year to move through Congress after it's submitted.

The over-all reform program is expected to cover charitable foundations, estate and gift taxes, multiple exemptions enjoyed by some corporations and perhaps a minimum tax for the very rich who are able to avoid taxes through large charitable deductions and depreciation.

No change in the 27½ per cent oil depletion rate is expected to be recommended by the White House but some members of Congress have said they will try to lower it.

The industrial development bond was designed originally for use by areas of high unemployment to attract job-producing industries. But in recent years companies have threatened to take their business elsewhere if they didn't get the cost-saving advantage of an industrial development bond signed by a local government, officials said.

More than 40 states now authorize use of tax-free bonds, some of them simply to prevent industry from moving elsewhere.

North Carolina only recently authorized their use—but at the same time asked the Treasury to eliminate the tax exemption altogether.

When the tax exemption was granted, the Treasury defined an industrial development bond as the obligation of a state or local government, thus providing a tax exemption on the interest.

Now the Treasury plans to repeal this definition on bonds issued after March 15.

Inmates in Oregon End Prison Riot

By PAUL W. HARVEY JR.
Associated Press Writer

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — A cleanup and rebuilding job is underway at Oregon's State Penitentiary after rioting convicts won a change in the command of the prison by burning most of it down.

The inmates released four guards Sunday after holding them hostage in the prison yard overnight.

They had won almost everything they asked, including a promise that they would not be prosecuted for their orgy of fire, window-breaking, and smashing everything in sight.

Prison officials estimated damage at $6 million.

George W. Randall, state director of corrections, agreed to the demands, presented by six convicts representing the prison population of 1,156. The demands were presented shortly after midnight Sunday.

Randall walked into the prison yard with several reporters to talk the prisoners into releasing their hostages.

He told the prisoners there would be no reprisals.

"I've never lied to a prisoner, and I'm too old to start lying now. We won't harm anyone," he said.

Randall agreed to fire warden C. T. Gladden, 73, who had served 15 years. Gladden, ill for six weeks, was not on duty during the riot.

The riot started, apparently with no advance planning, Saturday afternoon when a small group of convicts seized the control center, the nerve center for all operations inside the walls.

That gave them control of almost all of the prison. Most of the convicts soon joined in the riot.

By their burning, the prisoners destroyed all of the prison's rehabilitation facilities, more than half of the cells, and the means of preparing food and feeding the prisoners. All of the offices of the treatment officials, such as the chaplains, sociologists and counselors, were destroyed.

The prison hospital was severely damaged. The industrial plants, which provide vocational training, were destroyed.

The damages touched off speculation that a special session of the Oregon legislature would be needed to finance reconstruction.

As soon as the hostages were released, prison guards and state police forced all of the convicts into the recreation yard. They stayed there Sunday night, because making the cells livable will take at least until late today.

One of the guards who was held in the yard said, "It was the longest 17 hours of my life."

Someone asked the guard, William Lowery, 27, if he was frightened. "Are you kidding?" he asked.

Lowery said the riots were caused because "everyone was talking about the problems and no one was doing anything about them."

Other demands which were granted include better medical treatment, more liberal visiting and correspondence privileges, an inmate council to air their grievances, a better prison store, less forced savings from their pay, better food in the segregation section, and making the work-release program available to more prisoners.

When the riot began, 40 guards were in the area controlled by the convicts. Some of them escaped, some were rescued, and some were helped out by friendly convicts.

About 12 were held by the prisoners as hostages. These were released one at a time until only the final four were left.

There were no serious injuries among the hostages. A few suffered bumps, cuts or bruises.

The Board of Control, which administers the prison, will appoint a new warden this week. Randall has named Hoyt Cupp, assistant superintendent of the Oregon Corrections Institution, as acting warden.

Reviews Legislature

Rep. Talbot Feild, Jr., speaking to the Hope Rotary Club last Friday at the Town and Country, reviewed the events of the recent special session of the Arkansas Legislature. He discussed legislation for the schools and prison reform, and he said that in about 90 days a second special session would be called to deal with industrialization. He mentioned the controversial Lynn Davis bill, and he offered high praise for Mike Frost, a member of the newly organized Department of Administration.

The program was arranged by Dorsey McRae, and in his absence, Albert Graves introduced the speaker. President Clyde Fouse was in charge of the meeting, and Jim Pruden read a portion of a letter from Capt. Jack Lloyd concerning a civilian project in Vietnam. The Rev. Milton Smith of Little Rock and Don Green of Texarkana were visiting Rotarians, and Leroy consecutive day. Analysts cited uncertainty over the possibility of war as one cause. The next morning—before Johnson's announcement that reservists would be called up—stock in aerospace and defense industry firms—helped spark a market upsurge. At the time, the advance was described by analysts as technical.

Elledge of Little Rock was also a guest.

For a time after Johnson's announcement, most stocks dropped. But the aerospace and defense-related issues kept climbing.

By day's end, the gains included McDonnell-Douglas up 2, Boeing and General Dynamics each up 1½, United Aircraft up 2½ and Raytheon up 4½.

A spokesman for the Securities and Exchange Commission, which polices the market, acknowledge to the Associated Press that "we're concerned with that naturally." "But it's difficult if not impossible to come up with anything."

A major obstacle to proving a link to a government insider is getting a starting point. Given one individual's name, SEC investigators can pore over thousands of brokers' market transactions until they find what the individual traded.

Given a stock name, probes can see if government or congressional insiders turn up among traders in that issue. But a category as broad as defense-related issues makes an investigation exceedingly difficult.

One individual's purchase or sale, even of enough shares to profit him thousands of dollars, may make no dent in over-all market activity. Thus suspicion may never arise.

Links are even tougher to trade if the insider merely tells his brother-in-law to snap up a certain stock.

In October 1965, Rep. Robert Dole, R-Kan., asked the SEC and the Defense Department to investigate heavy trading in three aircraft companies during two market sessions immediately preceding announcement that a $2 billion government contract had been awarded.

During the two sessions, Lockheed, which got the contract to build the C-5A transport plane, rose 3½ points. The losers, Boeing and Douglas, dropped 7½ and 4½ respectively.

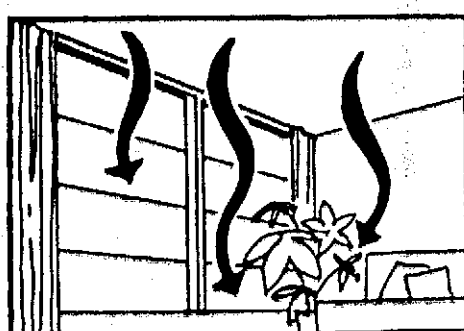

Whether Congress will take steps to insure against its own members using inside information for stock market profits should soon become apparent.

The Senate Ethics Committee is expected to unveil shortly its proposed standards of conduct. There are indications it will comment on such dealings as part of its recommendations on conflicts of interest.

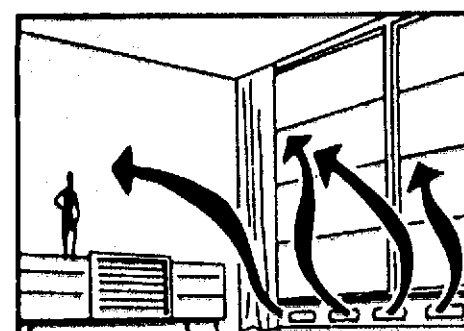

The "Code of Ethics for Government Service" adopted by Congress in 1958 says any person in government service should "never use any information coming to him confidentially in the performance of governmental duties as a means for making private profit."

Violation of this code can bring dismissal but a Civil Service Commission official said he could find no instance where an employee had been fired do you really know how electric heat heats?

Radiant Ceilings—heating cable built into your ceilings provides heat which, like sunshine, warms you instantly and cleanly.

Electric Baseboard—fits neatly against the wall at floor level and can be painted to match walls. Same pleasant radiant warmth.

Electric Furnace—circulates filtered warm air; tucks away neatly in a closet, attic, or any out-of-the-way space.

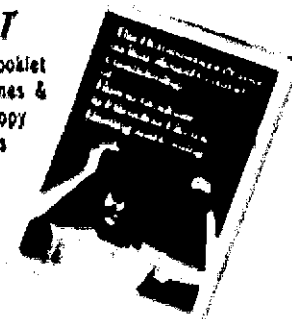

Electric Heat Pump—provides both heating and cooling from one unit, automatically. Cleans air, humidifies and dehumidifies.

There are the four principal ways Arkansas folks by the thousands are heating their homes electrically—for the cleanest, most comfortable home heating of all. All types are easy to install and most economical to operate, because with them goes AP&L's special low winter heating rate. Building a new home or remodeling an older one, give it the best in modern comfort—electric heat.

World's Largest Ship Launched In Japan

The Yokohama Dockyard of the Ishikawajima-Harima Heavy Industries Company launched the main section of the 276,000 DWT oil tanker ordered by the National Bulk Carriers, Inc. of the United States. Using the most modern shipbuilding techniques as befitting the leading ship building nation in the world, the new giant ship's body will be completed this March when her stern and prow sections are attached to the central core. This ship is the first of three on order from the National Bulk Carriers and is capable of transporting 350,000 kiloliters of oil per run. An indication of her size is the fact that height of her bridge is equivalent to that of a 15-story building.

Rhodesia Hangs Two More Negroes

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesia's white minority government today hanged two more black Africans convicted of murder but reprieved nine blacks who had been sentenced to die before Prime Minister Ian Smith declared independence in late 1965.

Four other blacks had been scheduled to be hanged today, but the government said clemency for them was still under consideration.

The execution last week of three blacks convicted of murder set off a worldwide storm of protests. The government's action today indicated it might be setting a pattern of death for persons convicted of murder and clemency for persons convicted of nonfatal terrorist crimes for which the death sentence is mandatory.

Those hanged today were Francis Chiresa and Taka Jeremiah, who were sentenced to death three years ago for slaying a tribal subchief. They were accused of serving as executioners for an African nationalist party and shooting their victim as he slept with his wife.

They were hanged despite an appeal for clemency from Pope Paul VI and petitions from their attorneys.

There are more than 100 other Africans in Rhodesian prisons condemned to death, and the government is reported reviewing all cases in chronological order from the time they were sentenced. Some go back before the declaration of independence in November 1965. Thirty African nationalists who crossed into Rhodesia from Zambia are among those awaiting execution.

Smith's cabinet at a special session Sunday considered the cases of 15 condemned Africans, an official statement said, and nine sentences were commuted to various terms of imprisonment. It said four cases were still under consideration but "after due consideration it was decided . . . that the law must take its course" against Chiresa and Jeremiah.

The three executions last week, which were carried out despite reprieves issued by Queen Elizabeth II, brought down condemnation on Smith's government from Britain, the United States, black African nations and committees of the United Nations.

There were numerous demands that the British government take a stronger line against Rhodesia, but Prime Minister Harold Wilson made clear his government has no intention of going to war against the British settlers in the African territory.

Smith's regime said although it still considers the queen the chief of state, it did not accede to her clemency order because it was recommended by the British government instead of by Clifford Dupont, whom Smith appointed to replace the British governor of Rhodesia. The Brit-

Oswald: "While match point duplicate is not exactly the same game as rubber bridge, there is no question that you can learn a lot about rubber bridge by playing duplicate."

Jim: "Of course. When you make mistakes at rubber bridge, you laugh them off if you happen to be winning and complain about bad luck if you happen to be losing. In duplicate, your mistakes show up as bad scores and you try to avoid them in the future."

Oswald: "One thing any bridge player should learn is that the takeout double with a balanced hand is likely to be a losing proposition. Our recommendation for duplicate or rubber bridge is that you make a takeout double with 4-3-3-3 distribution only if your hand is very powerful, while you can make a takeout double with a singleton in your opponent's bid suit with as little as 10 or 11 high card points."

Jim: "At most tables in the recent Dallas Regional tournament, West was allowed to play at one spade. He always made his contract. In fact, a couple of West players managed to make an overtrick, but the top East-West scores came when North chose to double for takeout and South played in two hearts."

Oswald: "Most South players went down two tricks. One managed to go down three. West opened his singleton diamond. South played dummy's queen. East won the king and led a spade. West cashed his jack and ace of spades and gave East a ruff. East led back the jack of diamonds and West discarded a spade instead of ruffing."

South had to go after the club suit eventually and misguessed the jack to wind up losing two spades, the ace of trumps, a spade ruff, two diamonds and two clubs."

Jim: "Actually, once the diamond was opened, it didn't make any real difference what South did. He would be down two or three tricks in any event."

Governor Talks About Opponents

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has characterized one of his potential Democratic opponents as "irresponsible" and another as a "crusader."

After filing his Republican Party papers for re-election Saturday, Rockefeller commented on Frank Whitbeck, a Little Rock insurance executive, and Dr. Ralph Phelps of Arkadelphia, president of Ouachita Baptist University.

The governor said in a television interview that Whitbeck had made contributions to the state in the past, and that he knows a "great deal about various aspects" of state government.

But, he said, "Some of his statements are irresponsible in the sense of not being based on current information."

Rockefeller contends that the state needs a tax increase, and Whitbeck, who was chairman of the state Economic Expansion Study Commission in 1963-65, has said on several recent occasions that a tax increase is not necessarily the answer to the state's problems.

Teachers Return in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh's high schools resume normal operations today but there was disagreement among teachers on the merits of a compromise that opened classroom doors closed for 11 days.

One group of teachers claimed the settlement was a victory for city educators, another said it was "meaningless and nothing of substance."

"I think the teachers have won a victory," said Albert Fondy, president of the Pittsburgh Federation of Teachers, after some 100 members of his group approved Sunday a resolution hammered out in nearly nine hours of marathon bargaining.

"They have won a right to an election," he said.

But Al Lumaz, vice president of the Pittsburgh Teachers Education Association, said the settlement meant nothing.

further stalemate. The House could vote only to accept or reject the entire package if it were brought directly to the floor and leaders reportedly hope support of other provisions will outweigh opposition to the open-housing feature. The House passed a more limited housing measure in 1966 but many of its supporters were defeated in the election that year. The way for Senate enactment of the measure was cleared last Monday after seven weeks of debate and maneuvering when a 65-32 vote succeeded in shutting off debate on the fourth try. The 19 opponents Friday included 15 Southern Democrats and two Southern Republicans and

Sens. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., and John J. Williams, R-Del. The bill's major provisions would: — Gradually prohibit discrimination in the sale or rental of housing. By Jan. 1, 1970, it would affect all multi-unit dwellings except owner-occupied buildings with four or fewer units—and all single-family houses sold through brokers. — Establish federal criminal penalties for interfering by force or threats with the right to vote, serve on juries, use public accommodations, attend public schools or engage in other officially protected activities. — Make it a federal crime to cross a state line with intent to incite a riot or to obstruct fire-

Mrs. Kennedy Visiting in Mexico

PALENQUE, Mexico (AP) — Under a waning moon, Mrs. John F. Kennedy gazed at the ancient Mayan temples of Palenque Sunday night and said: "This is simply magnificent." Clad in silk slacks and blouse, Mrs. Kennedy and 10 companions rode horseback to the ruins, which include some of the finest examples of Mayan architecture. Mrs. Kennedy said she believed the Mayan group was more impressive than the famed temples of Cambodia which she visited last year. About 500 miles westward, President Johnson's elder daughter, Lynda Bird, and her husband, Capt. Charles F. Robb, spent Sunday fishing and swimming off Acapulco. The couple cruised aboard the private yacht of former President Miguel Aleman. They are vacationing before Robb leaves for Vietnam. Mrs. Kennedy arrived Friday and will stay for a week of visiting.
